

ENC 1101 Weekly Schedule
Fall 2009

*Please note that the following schedule is tentative and may change based upon class progress. You are responsible for changes made to the schedule, so you might want to partner with someone and exchange email addresses in the event that you need to discuss missed work. Also note that this schedule does not take into account such items as in-class work, the responses (which will appear in a separate handout), and a library visit, among other projects. It is thereby designed to give you an overview of the course, and as such, may be amended to include information that has been inadvertently omitted or to include work/reading/exercises/etc. that I feel would benefit the class, as a whole.
